THINGS TO DO WHILE STAYING IN

...from Ken Rodmell - Mercury viewing opportunity! Relatively few people have ever seen our innermost planet, Mercury, but the next few days offer a chance to do just that. You'll need patience, a clear horizon to the west and to identify brilliant Venus as a starting point. Binoculars should pick up Mercury in the vicinity from around 9:30 pm, becoming a naked-eye object around 10:00 pm. It will appear far smaller than Venus and significantly dimmer. Do check online for Mercury's precise relationship to Venus as changes occur markedly from day to day. Never point your binoculars at the sun!

...from Lyonshall Nurseries. Make your own birdhouse with these tips and tricks to attract the birds <http://www.lyonshallnurseries.co.uk/news/1049/make-birdhouses>

...Broadsheep needs you ! Final reminder - Time on your hands? Do you fancy writing for Broad Sheep? All we need is a maximum of 200 words, fact or fiction, replying to the question: "SO WHAT DID YOU DO IN THE GREAT PANDEMIC LOCKDOWN." The DEADLINE is 23rd May, so email me - info@broadsheep.com and the best will be included in the June online issue of Broad Sheep and on Facebook. Good luck!

...from Village Circus (your local event company). Webare teaming up again with DJ Max Galactic to bring a kitchen disco to your place!! The theme this Saturday is Burgers and Cocktails. A Rule of Tum in Hereford are doing a one off delivery to Hay on Wye especially AND Village Circus are also doing a relay to bring orders back to Presteigne, they will be available to collect from our blue camper at 1pm on Scottleton Street on Saturday. Order here: <https://www.burgershophereford.com/> IMPORTANT, please let us know your order number if you wish us to collect for you. There is an order deadline - TODAY - so best do it now! Follow the link for information on how to join the livestream disco : <https://m.facebook.com/events/573040626958071>

...from Margaret. I've come across a free app called SEEK from iNaturalist, which identifies plants, insects, creatures etc in your garden using your phone or tablet camera. It also links with WWF weekend, and kids can earn badges the more they spot. Find SEEK by iNaturalist in your IOS or Android App Store.

(ed. I've tried this, looks really useful, and is far less annoying than the Identify This plant recognition app mentioned in a previous News which is really good for identification, but constantly trying to steer you towards signing up for a paid Premium service !)

...from Stephen Fry and Alzheimers Research. The fantastic Stephen Fry will take up his mantle as quizmaster again for a very special virtual quiz night in support of Alzheimer's Research UK. Join Stephen from 8:15pm this Friday for an evening of quizzing, quips and quality entertainment and help support us through the difficulties we're facing due to COVID-19 - sign up at our website www.alzheimersresearchuk.org Last week Stephen joined Jay Flynn, host of The Virtual Pub Quiz, as a special guest-host and the pair raised over £200,000; Stephen was so delighted by the response he's agreed to host a full takeover of Jay's quiz! So join us this Friday for another fantastic night of quizzing. Sign up for a reminder to make sure you don't miss it, and check back on this page for updates.

...from PCC. Did you know that it's National Creativity & Wellbeing Week this week? And did you also know that our friends at Arts Connection are offering a great range of activities online – from B-Boying/B-Girling for Beginners, to Clown Workshops and Drawing Games and Challenges. Sessions are free of charge but donations are welcome. You can find out more at <https://crowd.in/>

...from Recycle Now. PPE such as disposable gloves and face masks should not be put into your recycling. Please dispose of them safely by putting them in your general waste bin. If wearing a cloth face covering in public, wash it after every use in line with manufacturer's instructions.

...from Powys County Council. Latest news: Test, Trace, Protect partnership launches in Powys. Strong partnership working between Powys Teaching Health Board and Powys County Council means that the county is well-placed to deliver the Welsh Government's new Test Trace Protect strategy. The Test Trace Protect sets out the strategy for Wales for testing the public, tracing the spread of Coronavirus, helping to the country to relax lockdown restrictions. The strategy is due to be launched in Powys next week. It will work by:

- ➡ Identifying those who have symptoms consistent with COVID-19, enabling them to be tested while isolating from wider family, friends and their community.
- ➡ Tracing those individuals who have been in close contact with the symptomatic person, requiring them to take precautions and self-isolate (for 14 days).
- ➡ Providing advice and guidance, particularly where the symptomatic individual or their contacts are vulnerable or at greater risk.
- ➡ Ensuring that if the individual tests negative and the symptoms are not due to coronavirus, individuals and their contacts can get back to their normal routines as soon as possible.

More information about the Welsh Government's Test, Trace Protect strategy is available from: <https://gov.wales/test-trace-protect-html>

...from Presteigne Freegle. The single best thing we can do for the planet is consume less and reuse more! Try this fashion footprint calculator via @thredUP <https://www.thredup.com/fashionfootprint> #HowDirtyIsYourCloset

...from Powys County Council. Urgent need for more home care workers - we are urgently recruiting 30 more home care workers to help residents remain independent in their own homes and communities. The posts – domiciliary care assistants – are available across Powys and will be fixed term for six months. The council requires extra staff as a number of the workforce are currently shielding or socially isolating with some 4.7% of the whole council workforce currently unavailable. More information about the jobs can be found at <https://crowd.in/EESbqC>. The jobs are being offered as 25 hour a week positions for the next 6 months. The closing date for applications is Wednesday June 10.

...from the NHS. It's really important that children get their planned immunisations and vaccines to avoid outbreaks of preventable diseases. #HelpUsHelpYou <https://www.nhs.uk/conditions/vaccinations/>. Talk to your doctor if you have any questions.
